Art Unit: 2142

1. The Applicant's argument filed 2/23/05 have been fully considered but they are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.

Warning

2. Applicant is advised that should claim 8 be found allowable, claim 9 will be objected to under 37 CFR 1.75 as being a substantial duplicate thereof. When two claims in an application are duplicates or else are so close in content that they both cover the same thing, despite a slight difference in wording, it is proper after allowing one claim to object to the other as being a substantial duplicate of the allowed claim. See MPEP § 706.03(k).

Claims Objection

3. Claims 18-23 are objected to under CFR 1.75. Claim 18 is a method of claim, and claim 10 is a system claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claims 13-17, 19-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 13 recites the limitation "the set of resources" in line 1. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claims 14-17, 19-23, refer to claim 13 rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 U.S.C. § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351 (a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

7. Claims 7&10, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as anticipated by Horman (6,785,706).

As to claim 7, Horman discloses a method of synchronizing configuration parameters on a server with a database of stored configuration parameters (Fig. 3) comprising:

automatically updating said at least one application program configuration parameter [a server application which provides a high-level view of how an administered server synchronize (col. 8, line 60-col. 9, line 5)] in response to updating at least one corresponding stored application confirmation parameter in said database (col. 9, lines 1-20).

As to claim 10, refer to claim 7 rejection. Horman further discloses means for automatically maintaining synchronization between said set of configuration parameters stored on said at least one network server and said copy of the set of configuration parameters stored in said database (col. 2, lines 47-50, & col. 6, lines 26-50).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. Claims 8-9, 11, 13-17, 19-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Horman (6,785,706)as applied to claim 7 in view of Dan et al

As to claim 8, Horman does not disclose comprising reversing a database update in the event of an indication of an error during the process of updating the server.

Dan discloses the web management system includes a server-side back end daemon communicatable with database and file system (col. 3, lines 3-6).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use Dan's teachings to modify the method of Horman by reversing a database update in the event of an indication of an error during the process of updating the server in order to provide to eliminate the cost of shrink -wrapping and facilitate optional automatic online software upgrades.

As to claim 9, refer to claim 8 rejection.

As to claim 11, Dan further discloses wherein the server is operated by a web-hosting provider (fig. 2, item 25).

As to claim 12, Dan further discloses wherein each application program configuration program parameter defines at least in part a set of resources on the server available to a particular customer of the web hosting provider (Fig. 2, col. 14, lines 38-43).

As to claims 13,15-17, Dan further discloses wherein the set of resources comprises disk space, memory space, communication bandwidth, processor capacity (Fig. 2, database 50, is a memory space that stored in the webpages).

As to claim 14, Dan further discloses wherein the set of resources comprises a network address (Fig. 2, database 50, is a network resource available to user 10).

As to claim 18, refer to claim 12 rejection.

As to claims 19, 21-23 refer to claims 13,15-17 rejection.

As to claim 20, refer to claim 14 rejection.
